Institutional Profile

1.1 OUR ROOTS

One Man and a Dream

Our story starts with one man and a dream, over three centuries ago.

The man — John Baptist de La Salle — was born to a wealthy family in Rheims, France on April 30, 1651. The dream was to provide education for the poor, for John Baptist de La Salle believed that education gave hope and opportunity for men to lead better lives of dignity and freedom, lives which all men deserve as children of God.

De La Salle was a man of refined manners, a cultured mind, and great practical ability, in whom personal prosperity was balanced with kindness and affability. He lived in times not unlike our own, where society is characterized by a great disparity between the rich and the poor, and where the few who are rich control the lives of the many who are poor, helpless, hopeless and powerless.

Convinced that he could serve God more devotedly and concentrate on his mission more dedicatedly as a religious, de La Salle consecrated himself to God and finally became a priest at the age of 27.

Disturbed by the disparity he saw and felt around him, and firmly believing that all men and women ought to live lives more fitting for them as children of God, de La Salle devoted himself to the education of the poor, starting with recruiting young men who were out of work, training them to become good Christian teachers right in his own home, and later on transferring to other sites when his family and friends refused to accept his recruits into their homes.

Despite the strong objections and criticism from his family and friends, he pursued his mission with relentless perseverance and determination and unflagging faith and zeal, leading him to found the Brothers of the Christian Schools in 1684, when he was only 33 years old. Through this congregation of young men dedicated to serve God through the education of the poor and the Christian formation of the youth, De La Salle led the way in establishing charity schools and teacher training institutes.

Today, after over 300 years, the La Salle Brothers serve the youth in schools, colleges, universities and other apostolates in 80 countries throughout the world.

The Brothers in the Philippines

The Brothers came to the Philippines in 1911, when they were invited by the Archbishop of Manila to set up a Catholic school for the children of the upper classes in the country's capital. The Archbishop was concerned then about the growing number of American Protestant schools in the country and he sought the help of the Brothers to stem the tide of this growing influence among the children of the country's leading families.

Although the Brothers found themselves in a situation where they were providing education for the children of the elite, they endeavored to remain true to their mission by inculcating in their students a deep concern for the plight of their less privileged countrymen. It was hoped that their Lasallian education would encourage them to utilize and develop their talents and resources in serving their nation, as they were bound to succeed their fathers in taking the helm of Philippine economic, political, and cultural life.

As the Brothers in the Philippines grew in number, and as their successes allowed, they gradually established more La Salle schools in the country, schools more directly serving the needs of the poor and underprivileged through education.

1.2. MISSION-VISION STATEMENT OF THE LASALLIAN FAMILY IN THE PHILIPPINES

PREAMBLE

Deeply moved, as St. John Baptist de La Salle was, by the plight of the poor and youth at risk, we, the members of the Lasallian schools in the Philippines, commit ourselves to the Lasallian Mission of providing a human and Christian education to the young, especially in schools, with the service of the poor as priority, in order to evangelize and catechize, to promote peace and justice, accomplishing these together as shared mission. We draw strength from the many Lasallians committed to incarnating our charism in our country today to serve the needs of the Filipino youth, especially those at risk.

DECLARATION

Inflamed by the Holy Spirit, God's own fire, we declare our commitment to the following:

We shall work together as a national network of Lasallian schools in the Philippines for the efficient and effective implementation of the Lasallian Mission, following the directives of the De La Salle Brothers and the Philippine Lasallian Family as set by the General Chapter, the District Chapter and the Philippine Lasallian Family Convocation;

We shall ensure the integrity of the Lasallian Mission by setting directions and standards applicable to the Philippine Lasallian schools and by monitoring their implementation;

We shall promote the Lasallian Mission by fostering synergy, collaboration and sharing among the Lasallian schools; and

We shall uphold the Lasallian values of faith, zeal in service and communion in mission.

PRAYER

In all these, we, together and by association, dedicate our life and work to God, who alone guarantees the fulfillment of our Lasallian dream.

1.3. PRINCIPLES OF LASALLIAN EDUCATION IN THE PHILIPPINES

St. John Baptist de La Salle and his companions discerned God's call to service in the human and spiritual distress of the poor and abandoned children. As a concrete response to this divine call, they associated together to conduct schools that would make the benefits of quality human and Christian education accessible to the poor. By giving visible and effective expression to the creative and redemptive love of God for young people, such schools became "signs of God's Kingdom and instruments of salvation."

Today, the mission of human and Christian education is a wide ranging collaborative effort entrusted to men and women of diverse backgrounds and gifts, who, in creative fidelity to de La Salle's vision, commit themselves to making the benefits of a transformative human and Christian education available to all, most especially to the poor.

Each member of the Lasallian Family lives out this commitment through association in a Lasallian educational project according to his or her particular role and area of competence. By our efforts to ensure the vitality, relevance and effectiveness of the educational project, all who participate in and support such work act as partners in the educational process.

As inheritors of De La Salle's legacy and collaborators in the Lasallian Mission, we are convinced that...

Lasallian education is a mission and ministry at the service of God, the Church and society, and directed towards integral human and Christian development and liberation.

Lasallian education is imbued with a spirit of faith, which enables persons to interpret, judge and evaluate realities in the light of the Gospel, to unite one's actions and intentions with God's, and to rely on God's providence in acting and discerning God's will.

Lasallian education is marked by zeal: the whole-hearted giving of oneself to the service of others, in gratuity and generosity, in creativity and fortitude, in compassion and commitment.

Lasallian education is exercised as a communion in mission marked by a fraternal spirit which enables all sectors of the school community and all those who support its work to collaborate in educating towards a world that is more humane, more just and more fraternal, a world where no one is excluded from the banquet of life.

Lasallian education forms disciples and citizens, prophets and professionals, who bring the transforming power of the Gospel to bear on culture and on every human endeavour in order to realize God's kingdom of truth, justice, love and peace.

Guided by these principles, we believe that:

Lasallian schools are educational communities where all sectors. . .

participate in the Church's mission and are committed to easing the plight of the vulnerable and marginalized sectors of Philippine society;

are committed to assuring the integral human and Christian development of learners in all their uniqueness and diversity;

are co-responsible for creating a culture and climate conducive to genuine learning and character formation;

are stakeholders who work in association with one another in a strong spirit of fraternal solidarity; and are committed to continuous renewal and transformation in collaboration with others to accomplish their common mission.

Lasallian learners are unique and gifted individuals who...

strive to integrate gospel perspectives and values in the conduct of their daily lives;

are committed to excellence in order to be of greater service to God and country;

take progressive responsibility for their own learning and development;

express concern and compassion for the plight of the vulnerable and marginalized sectors of society and respond to their needs; and work together creatively, constructively, and enthusiastically to support the Lasallian Mission.

Lasallian educators are service-oriented professionals who...

are genuinely committed to the integral human and Christian development of diverse types of learners through personal witness and service;
are attentive to learners in their uniqueness and seek to build appropriate relationships that promote total human formation;

are committed to life-long personal and professional improvement and service;

work together creatively, constructively and enthusiastically both to realize the Lasallian Mission and to assure the effectiveness and vitality of the institutions to which they belong; and serve as resources for the renewal of the Church and for the integral development of society.

Lasallian educational experiences are dynamic processes that:

challenge learners to realize their full potential by promoting critical and creative thinking, self-knowledge and self-mastery;

bring Christian perspectives and values to bear on human knowledge and culture; encourage synergy, collaboration and dialogue in an environment that is fraternal, hospitable and laden with mutual respect;

impel learners to translate their knowledge into actual practice for the betterment of society; and prepare learners for responsible participation in the world of work, the family, the community, the wider society and the local Church.

Guided by these principles and together in faith and zeal, we aspire to create educational works of quality that will be "signs of God's Kingdom and instruments of salvation" for the various individuals and groups who seek to realize the fullness of their dignity and humanity through education.

1.5. BRIEF HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY

In 1946, an opportunity for the Brothers to set up a second La Salle school in the country came when then Bacolod City Mayor Alfredo Montelibano, Sr., offered them a ten-hectare lot where the University stands today.

In 1952, La Salle-Bacolod was established through the guidance and efforts of its three Founding Brothers: Br. Felix Masson, Br. Hugh Wester and Br. Dennis Ruhland, the first Director of the school.

La Salle-Bacolod opened with 175 male students from Prep to Grade 5, under seven faculty members. The school building was unimpressive, built amidst sprawling muddy ground and bordered by cane fields of adjoining lands.

The following decade saw the expansion of La Salle from Grade School to College. This was made possible through pledges, donations, and fund drives actively supported by parents, alumni, and benefactors.

In 1953, the first college program, College of Commerce, was opened with 25 students. In 1966, La Salle College opened its doors to the first batch of female college students whose influence on campus life grew as more and more ladies enrolled in what used to be an exclusive school for boys. In 1987, the Integrated School started to admit female students as well.

As a Catholic institution of learning offering to both men and women an educational program designed to develop their talents and abilities towards becoming truly contributing members of society, the University of St. La Salle is committed to a curriculum that emphasizes person- development as an integrated and wholistic process of spiritual, social, intellectual and physical growth.

In 1984, the College of Nursing and the College of Engineering were opened, in addition to the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business and Accountancy, Education and the Graduate School.

The institution was elevated to University Status on July 5, 1988.

In AY 1993-1994, the College of Law was opened, and the College of Medicine in 2002.

The Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business and Accountancy and Education have obtained PAASCU Level 3 accreditation and the College of Engineering Level 1.

In 2000, the following programs were designated as CHED Centers of Development: Business and Accountancy, Chemical Engineering, Electronics and Communication Engineering, and Computer Engineering.

By 2001, the University was conferred the Autonomous Status by the Commission on Higher Education, one of among 30 institutions in the country granted with this prestigious and esteemed recognition.

In 2002, as an expression of its Golden Jubilee theme "Keeping Faith," the University enshrined the statue of St. John Baptist de La Salle, the Patron Saint of Teachers, at the San Sebastian Cathedral.

Since then, the University and its stakeholders have collectively earned various recognitions and awards. Among these are -- Levels 1 to Level 3 accreditation of various programs granted by the Philippine Accrediting Association of Schools, Colleges & Universities (PAASCU), the designation of Centers of Development in a number of academic programs by the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) and remarkable ranking and top-notchers in several licensure examinations.

In 2008, USLS was among the first higher education institutions (HEIs) to earn its Institutional Quality Assurance and Monitoring Evaluation (IQUAME) rating of A(t), recognizing it as a premier teaching institution.

In 2009, the following programs were again recognized by CHED as Centers of Development (COD) from 2009 to 2012 and was extended until May 31, 2014: Accountancy, Chemical Engineering, and Computer Engineering. The College of Education was also recognized by CHED as COD in Teacher Education for the period April 2016 to December 2018.

The Autonomous Status of the University was renewed by CHED on April 1, 2016 and is valid for a period of three years.

In AY 2016-2017, USLS was recognized by CHED as one of the Delivering Higher Education Institutions (DHEI) for ten (10) graduate programs as well as one of the Sending Higher Education Institutions (SHEI) for graduate degree programs during the K to 12 Transition period.

In January 2018, the College of Business and Accountancy was renamed to Yu An Log College of Business and Accountancy as an expression of gratitude to the Yu family for its benevolence and to honor the life and legacy of Yu An Log whose generous spirit and genuine compassion are manifested in his support for various academic institutions and scholarships. The naming rights provided additional funds in support of the college's scholarship grants, faculty development program, professorial chairs, lecture series, and facilities improvement.

2.2.7 Late Registration

Late registration may be extended to students only within the provisions pertaining thereto in the Manual of regulations for Private Higher Education (MORPHE).

2.3 ATTENDANCE POLICY

Students are expected to attend class regularly. Attendance is counted from the first regular class meeting regardless of the time of registration.

2.3.1 Allowable Absences

The number of absences allowed per subject should not be more than 20% of the total number of hours in a semester as provided by the Manual of Regulations for Private Schools (MORPHE).

2.3.2 Tardiness

A student is marked late if he/she comes within the first fifteen (15) minutes of any class period.

Two tardy marks are considered as one (1) absence from the class in a subject. A student is considered absent if he/she comes fifteen (15) minutes after the second bell.

2.3.3 Sick Notice

Absences due to sickness with or without notification are counted against the allowed number of absences during a school term. Exception is made in extreme cases such as accidents or illness necessitating hospitalization of more than two (2) weeks, in which case that the student is given extra assignments to make up for work missed.

A student who fails to take the exam due to illness is required to submit a medical certificate, exam permit, and a letter from parents in order to be given special exams.

2.3.4 Approved Absence

A student who participates in any school-sponsored activity or represents the University in an official capacity is granted Approved Absence upon the recommendation of the Department Chairperson or the Dean of Student Affairs and the approval of the Dean.

An approved absence is noted on the student's attendance record but is not counted against the allowed number of absences in the subject. The privilege, however, does not relieve the student of the responsibility of making up for work missed. The teachers concerned are expected to give extra assignments or due consideration upon the request of the student.

2.4 EXAMINATIONS

Midterm, and final examinations are conducted only on the dates published in the official College Calendar.

No credit will be given for any subject until all requirements have been satisfactorily completed.

The student shall not be able to access his/her grades until after the said balance has been settled.

As one of the mechanisms for USLS to institutionalize more compassionate policies and guidelines for those students who may be facing some financial difficulties, the Business Office will accept processing of Promissory Notes together with the student's parents or authorized guardian subject to the approval of the committee.

2.4.2 Exemption from Final Examination

At the discretion of the instructor, a student may be exempted from taking the final examination if he/she obtained a grade average of 90% (2.0) or better in the subject for all grading periods in a semester.

2.4.3 Cheating in Examinations

Cheating and abetting cheating in any examination or quiz, and plagiarism in any academic work are considered major offenses. Students guilty of such offenses are assigned a zero score in that particular examination or course requirement and shall be reported to the Discipline and Formation Officer for proper action.

2.4.4 Take Home/Alternative Examinations

Take home or alternative examinations (e.g. research, special projects, etc. in lieu of written examination) may be allowed in certain courses when they require long research work. Instructors, however, must inform the Department Chairperson/Dean two weeks before the scheduled examination and must submit the examination questions for approval.

2.4.5 Promissory Notes/Examination Permits/Request for Special Exams Due to Conflict in Schedule or Illness

Promissory note and examination permits is not required during the examination period, however, the student needs to settle the monthly due and back account from the previous semester/s in order to view the grades online.

To secure a promissory note for viewing of grades, the student is required to pay a partial payment. For those students with delinquent accounts, the approval of the committee will be based on the financial history shown in the account of the student as well as relevant factors to support request.
Teachers are not obliged to give special exams to a student who fails to take the exams as scheduled due to failure to secure a permit or a promissory note. A student who fails to take the term exam due to failure to secure exam permit or promissory note is given a grade of 60 in that particular exam.

A student who fails to pay on time because of the long queue should notify his/her teacher, who may allow him/her to take the exam. The teacher, however, will set the deadline for the student to submit his/her permit on the same day.

In case of conflict in exam schedule, a student should make prior arrangements to take a special exam with the teacher/s concerned.

A student who fails to take the exam due to illness is required to submit a medical certificate and a letter from his/her parents so as to be given special exams.

2.5 ACADEMIC PERFORMANCE

2.5.1 Grading System

Instructors inform their respective students of their term grades within two (2) weeks after the examination. Final grades are obtained from the Registrar's Office three (3) weeks after the submission of grades. A permanent record of a grade for each course is made only at the end of each term. Grades are determined from recitation, quizzes, examinations, and other course requirements.

Grade Equivalent:

|---|---|---|
| 1.50 to 1.00 | 95 to 100 | Superior |
| 2.00 to 1.60 | 90 to 94 | Very Good |
| 2.50 to 2.10 | 85 to 89 | Good |
| 3.00 to 2.60 | 80 to 84 | Average |
| 3.50 to 3.10 | 75 to 79 | Passing |
| 5.00 | 74 and below | Failure |
| W | - | Official withdrawal from the subject |
| NA | - | Did not appear in class for the whole semester |
| DR with 5.0 | - | Dropped with a failure due to violation of attendance policies and/or prescribed procedures on withdrawal |

2.5.2 Submission of the List of Failures
An instructor who fails to submit his/her list of failures on the deadline indicated for the final term, forfeits his/her right to fail the student.

Once the list of failures has been duly submitted, a faculty member may not convert anymore failed grades to passed status unless there is an error in the entry of grades.

2.5.3. Changes in Grades
Errors in the entry of grades may be corrected after the instructor concerned explains, in writing, to the Department Chairpersons and the Dean his/her reasons for the change and secures their endorsement. The final approval is then secured from the AVCAA. Changes in grades must be done within one year when the subject was taken.

2.5.4. Academic Standing
The academic standing of a student is determined by computing the grade point average (GPA), as follows:

- Multiply the grade in each course by the number of credits (e.g. 1.5x3 units).
- Find the sum of all the grade points (per credits).
- Divide the sum of all the grade points by the total number of credits including credit units for which a 5.0 was earned (though no grade points are given for a 5.0)

To be in good academic standing, the student must have a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 and must satisfy the scholastic requirements for his/her major program of study. Students' records are evaluated for academic standing at the end of each semester.

2.5.5. Dean's List
The University recognizes the scholastic achievement of students whose grade point average in a semester's load of at least 15 units is 1.9 (91%) or better and no final grade below 2.50 (85%). Failure in, dropping or withdrawal from any subject, including NSTP and GG disqualifies the student from the Dean's List. However, NSTP and GG are not included in the computation of the GPA.

The First Honors Certificate is awarded to students with a GPA of 1.50 (95%) to 1.00 (100%) and Second Honors Certificate to those with a GPA of 1.90 (91%) to 1.51 (94.9%).

2.5.6 Academic Probation
1. A student is placed on academic probation if he/she:
- incurs 12 units of failure in one semester; or
- accumulates 18 units of failure in different semesters.

Note: all subjects will be considered in evaluating the number of units of failure.

2. A student on probation may be permitted to enroll if he/she:
- takes the regular load for the given semester;
- engages in only one co-curricular activity and does not join any varsity team; and
- cooperates with the Guidance and Evaluation Center and the Department Chairperson/Dean on attendance at academic conferences.

3. The probation status is lifted if the student passes all his/her subjects during the semester of the probation. However, the number of failures remains on record. The student may now engage in co-curricular activities or join varsity teams.

4. A letter is sent to his/her parents once a student is placed on probation.

2.5.7 Dismissal from the University
1. A student is dismissed from the school if he/she incurs 18 units of failure in one semester.

2. A continuing student is dismissed from the school if he/she incurs an accumulated failure of 24 units.

2.5.8 Disciplinary Probation and Dismissal
A student may be placed on disciplinary probation or denied readmission for violation of the University norms of conduct prescribed in the Student's Handbook upon the recommendation of the Discipline and Formation

Officer and the approval of the Dean of Student Affairs and the College Dean. Another infraction of any school policy during the disciplinary probation makes the student liable for dismissal from the University after due process.

No student on either academic or disciplinary probation may hold office in any College organization or represent the University in any off-campus function or activity. However, he/she may become a member of one campus organization.

2.6 GRADUATION POLICY

2.6.1 Academic Requirements

Students are responsible for regularly consulting with their respective Department Chairpersons/Deans on policies and requirements concerning graduation. Although the course requirements for the degree program are all specified in the Undergraduate Catalogue, any additional requirements prescribed by the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) must be met by all applicants for graduation.

2.6.2 Course Requirements

Students must be in residence in USLS for at least four consecutive semesters prior to graduation. Sixty percent of the units for major electives must be earned at USLS. The maximum length of time students are allowed to work for a bachelor's degree is seven years, counting from the first time they enrol at the University.

2.6.3 Honors

The following honors are conferred on qualified students upon graduation from a Bachelor's degree program:

Summa Cum Laude

To graduating students with a grade point average of exactly 1.40 (96) or better (a GWA of 1.41 is disqualified from Summa Cum Laude) and with no grade lower than 2.0 (90) in any subject excluding NSTP and GG. Residence in USLS for at least six consecutive semesters prior to graduation is also required.

Magna Cum Laude

To graduating students with a grade point average between 1.70-1.50 (93-95) or better (a GWA of 1.71 is disqualified from Magna Cum Laude) and with no grade lower than 2.2 (88) in any subject excluding NSTP and GG. Residence in USLS for at least six consecutive semesters prior to graduation is also required.

Cum Laude

Residence in USLS for at least six consecutive semesters prior to graduation is also required.

Academic Achievement Award

To graduating students with a grade point average of 91 or better, no grade below 81 (2.9) and with a grade of 81-84 for a maximum of three (3) subjects/courses only.

Nota Bene

Although grades in NSTP are not included in the computation of the grade point average, a student applying for honors should have a grade of 3.0 (80) or better in this subject.

Grades earned from other institutions will not be considered in the computation and determination of honors unless they have been officially credited to the degree program they enrolled in USLS.

In case of double majors or shiftees, a grade lower than the cut-off for honors in any subject related to the course/s to be graduated from will automatically disqualify the student from any honors.

A residence in USLS for at least 6 consecutive semesters prior to graduation is required.

For students taking two (2) courses with different graduation dates, the honor will only be conferred at the end when the student graduates from both courses.

A student who repeats a course to meet with the retention requirements is disqualified from any honors.

Only subjects that are related, aligned, and accredited to the course/s to be graduated from will be considered in the computation of the grade-point average (GPA).

Grades or Remarks of WITHDRAWN or W, Incomplete or INC, No Appearance or N.A., or Dropped or DRP or D in the Transcript of Records disqualifies the student for honors.

2.6.4 The Commencement Program

The List of Candidates for graduation is posted on the Bulletin Board one (1) month prior to graduation day. A graduating student is responsible for ensuring that his/her name is included in the Commencement Program. The inclusion of a student's name in the Commencement Program does not, however, guarantee his graduation unless he has met all the degree requirements of the University of St. La Salle and the Commission on Higher Education (CHED).

The University reserves the right to deny a student from participating in the Graduation Rites if found to have violated any University Rules and Regulations. The graduates are required to abide with the rules implemented by the Graduation Committee during graduation practice and rites.

The ASAO primarily focuses on the recruitment, screening and admission of students to the university, and supervises the screening and admission of applicants for scholarship and financial assistance and facilitates visa-related processes for international students.

4.1.2. Don Alfredo Montelibano, Sr., AFSC Memorial Learning Resource Center (LRC)

The Learning Resource Center is a pro-active learning hub of the institution that provides excellent educational resources, state-of-the-art technologies and innovative services in support for the lifelong learning, instruction and research of the university and the academic community.

4.1.3. Instructional Media Center (IMC)

The IMC is an academic support unit that facilitates audio-visual related requests and services for the institution as well as ID printing and production. It assists faculty in the selection, programming, and actual production of audio-visual aids for classroom instruction.

Student ID

Each new student is issued an ID card which is required identification for entry to campus and for the use of school services such as Registrar's Office, Library, Instructional Media Center, Office for Student Affairs, Clinic, and other facilities. Students must wear their IDs at all times particularly during registration and examination days. It is absolutely non-transferable and must be surrendered to the proper authorities upon request. Replacement for lost ID should be processed through the Discipline and Formation Office.

4.1.4. The Information Technology Services (ITS)

The Information Technology Services (ITS) manages and supports the technology systems and infrastructure of the University. The services ITS offers to the students are essentials to their teaching and learning experience.

Information Technology Services takes the lead in implementing systems that benefit students, teachers and staff. School Management System (AIMS) is used for integrated processes from undergraduate to postgraduate student services, eg. (Admissions, Enrollment, Transcript of Records processing). The Learning Management System (CANVAS) is used by the institution for the best online learning experience.

Integrated to these systems is the Google Workspace for the University. ITS manages the Google Workspace which enables them to give the right access to the students, faculty and staff. Officially enrolled students have the privilege to use the Google Workspace and allows them to store their data online up to 20GB. To fully utilize the cloud services the students are encouraged to disable syncing their google photos to the University's Google Workspace. ITS also encourages the students to backup their Google Workspace before every academic year ends since the ITS implements a policy to refresh the system every academic year. The main function of the University's Google Workspace is for academic purposes hence other personal and private accounts are highly discouraged to be linked to your University's email like online banking and social media accounts. This is also another layer to safeguard our systems from external attackers. A regular password change will also help ITS to minimize other online threats.

4.1.5. Center for Research and Engagement (CRE)

The Center for Research and Engagement (CRE) is the research arm of the university whose main purpose is to administer and supervise all institutional research requests, internally-funded researches under the Faculty and Administrators Research Program, and university-based externally-funded research projects as well as other research-related activities. It also provides research technical assistance to both internal and external clients.

Under the center are the Publication and Engagement Office (PEO), the Research Ethics Review Office (RERO), and the Institutional Research and Engagement Office (IREO).

The PEO facilitates the timely publication of research outputs and dissemination of research recommendations to all stakeholders. To ensure ethical soundness, the RERO ascertains that all researches are compliant with ethical principles and standards of the university while the IREO links the university to private and public institutions and agencies for possible fund sourcing through research collaborations and supports its evidence-based decision-making processes by conducting researches commissioned by the administration. On the other hand, the IPR committee looks into issues and concerns pertaining to Intellectual Property Rights in order to protect the Intellectual Property (IP) creators of the University. The CRE is also working closely with the University Research Board (URB) and the USLS Innovation and Creative Council (UICC).

With the end view of promoting quality education, socio-economic development, and scientific and technological advancement, the CRE is mandated to create and nurture a culture of research in the university through a research environment befitting and relevant to all members of the Lasallian community.

Its main goal is to help the students and alumni find suitable employment opportunities. CDC also facilitates students' internship in recognized private corporations, government agencies, non-government organizations and academic institutions where training related to their respective field of study is obtained. It intends to prepare students for employment by doing various activities that equip them with the necessary skills and abilities that they can apply in the workplace.

4.1.7. Registrar's Office

4.2.4. Health Services Center

The Center for Lasallian Ministries designs, coordinates, and implements the Lasallian formation programs for students in senior high school, college and postgraduate levels. It aims to deepen the community's spiritual formation through daily masses, confessions and other liturgical and paraliturgical services. Moreover, it facilitates retreats and recollections which provide a better understanding and appreciation of the spirituality of St. La Salle and enable the community to reflect on their relationship with themselves, with others and with God.

The Health Services Center provides the services of physicians, dentists, and nurses. The Clinic conducts first aid treatment and medical/physical examination for students, faculty and staff, job applicants prior to hiring, athletes or varsity players prior to sports events, students requiring OJT, and those requiring a medical certificate for off-campus conferences, field trips and extra-curricular activities.

To avail of dental services, an appointment is necessary. Dental services offered are face to face consultations, tooth extractions,and in case of emergency, suturing and temporary filling. The Clinic provides a bed for the temporary rest and comfort of patients. As determined by the physician or nurse on duty, the patient may then be sent home, referred to a specialist/ hospital, or allowed to go back to class (except for Covid suspects and positive cases. See Covid Protocol). Only patients (no watchers) are allowed to rest in the Clinic. The University provides ambulance service when necessary.

A. Medical Consultation

Procedures

1. Any member of the USLS Community who is not feeling well or sick in campus may go to the clinic for consultation (except for Covid suspects and positive cases. See Covid Protocol).

2. The physician on duty shall obtain the history of present illness, examine the patient, and make an initial diagnosis and advise the patient regarding his/her conditions.

3. The physician shall prescribe the appropriate medication to the patient.
Policies and Guidelines

1. USLS has a strict DO NOT GO TO SCHOOL WHEN SICK Policy.

2. The clinic provides basic and emergency services within its resources.
3.Definitive management and treatment should be done with the patient's own personal physician or in the hospital.

4. The clinic provides beds for temporary rest and comfort for patients. As determined by the physician or nurse on duty, the patient may be sent home, and referred to a specialist, hospital, or allowed to go back to class (except for Covid suspects and positives. See Protocol).

5. Only patients are allowed to rest in the clinic. No companions or watchers are allowed to stay.

6. When there is injury, first aid treatment is administered immediately.

7. No intravenous medications will be given in any of the three clinics.

8. The clinic is not obliged to give the full course of medication. Only a starter dose, if available, is provided. Subsequent medications are the responsibility of the patient.

9. Emergency cases are to be brought to the hospital, accompanied by the school nurse. In cases where an emergency occurs after 5 PM, the nurse at the College Satellite Clinic together with a faculty or DFO in charge will accompany the patient to the hospital. The parents or guardians of the student patient will be notified immediately.

10. There will be no medical services during semestral and Christmas break. Only those enrolled during each semester and summer classes will be entertained.

B. Medical Certification

An excuse letter from parents/guardians is required for all absences. Students with one (1) to three (3) days of absences and have consulted with the University's Health Service staff for non-Covid like symptoms, may go directly to the Clinic for their medical certificate. In the event that the student was not able to seek consultation at the Clinic, the parent/guardian's certification is needed before the issuance of the medical certificate. For Covid-like symptoms, a medical certificate should be issued by the clinic (if teleconsultation* was done) or by the private physician after 5 days of isolation.

Processing of medical certificates from the clinic should be done within a week from the first day the students report to school. If a student has been absent for more than 3 days due to illness, a medical certificate from an external physician is required before the Clinic can issue a medical clearance (validation of submitted medical certificate) except for Covid Suspects and Positive students who consulted the Health Services Center via teleconsultation. The Health Services Center will provide a medical certificate for them.

C. School-Sanctioned Extra-curricular and Co-curricular Activities
In school-sanctioned activities, (whether on or off-campus), the faculty in charge or the moderator should email filled-out a Risk Assessment Form to the Medical Director and Risk Management Officer a month before the activity. If they would like to avail of the services of a nurse, they should write a letter of request addressed to the Medical Director, at least one (1) week before the said activity. Approval of the request is subject to the availability of a nurse.

To request for a medical certificate as required by CHED, the faculty in charge or moderator must request for a physical examination of all participants from the Medical Director at least 2 months prior to the activity. If not feasible, a Health Declaration and Liability Waiver (see appendix U) must be submitted by all participants (students, facilitators and chaperones) in a Google Drive and emailed to clinic@usls.edu.ph. After review, the Medical Director will issue a Health Declaration and Liability Validation Form in lieu of the Medical Certificate.

D. Emergency Cases
In emergency situations, if the student needs to be taken to the hospital, the parents or guardians will be notified immediately. The student will be brought to the hospital to be accompanied by a school nurse. If an emergency occurs after 5 p.m., the nurse from the Satellite Clinic, along with a faculty member or Level Prefect in charge, will escort the patient to the hospital. The Satellite Clinic will be closed during this time, with a notice on the door directing individuals to the other satellite clinic. The nurse will remain at the hospital until proper handover to the parents/guardian and hospital staff is completed. The accompanying nurse will also inform the nurse at the other satellite clinic about the ambulance transport.

E. Covid-19 Guidelines
Minimum Public Health Standards

4. If no relief was noted, the patient shall be advised to go to the hospital for further management.

5. If the patient is a Covid suspect, nebulization is deferred.

Policies and Guidelines
1. The clinic can only provide within its resources e.g. the initial dose of nebulization available.

2. For those patients who are already on nebulization treatment, it is preferred that they bring their own mouthpiece and tubing and present the latest doctor's prescription/order prior to nebulization.

3. For patients bringing their own nebulizers and personal mist kits, they can plug in their units at any of the available sockets at the rest areas in any of the clinics on the campus.

• submitting and claiming as one's own any work which owes any part of its content or substance to another person who is the author or creator of the work;

• cheating during examinations which may be in the form of copying from another person's answers, lifting from unauthorized materials, giving information to another student, or colluding or attempting to collude with other students during an examination, having somebody else take one's examination or taking it for another person, and using unauthorized notes or texts during an exam;

• using mobiles and other disruptive behavior during tests and examinations

• communicating with another students during examinations without permission from the teacher or proctor.

• looking at examination paper of others and/or allowing another to glance/look at one's own paper/notes during examination

Guidelines for Proctors/Teachers During College Exams on Handling Unauthorized Communication, Glancing or Looking at Seat-Mate's Paper, and Cheating

A. Prevention

1. Clarify expectations: Clearly communicate the rules and expectations regarding academic integrity and dishonesty to all students before the test. Make sure they know the behaviors that are to be strictly avoided during exams such as unauthorized communication with seatmates, glancing at their seatmate's paper, and especially sharing and receiving cheat sheet or any tangible proof of cheating. Please emphasize at this time that the consequence of cheating (must have some tangible proof such as a cheat sheet or “kudigo”) is a zero score in the examination being taken.

2. Remind the students of the rule regarding the ONLY PERSON they can talk to during exams: Make it clear that the only person they can talk to during the examination is the proctor or their teacher.

3. Arrange the seat plan: Consider arranging the seating in a way that minimizes the opportunity for cheating. Separate students and create sufficient space between desks to discourage communication or the sharing of answers.

4. Prohibit electronic devices: Explicitly state and enforce a no-electronics policy during the test. Before distributing the examination questionnaires, ask students to turn off and store their mobile phones, smartwatches, and any other electronic devices that could be used for cheating.

5. Use randomized questions or versions: Create multiple versions of the test or randomly distribute questions to different students. This helps prevent cheating by making it more difficult for students to share answers.

6. Design test questions effectively: Design test questions that require critical thinking, application, and analysis rather than simple recall of information. This reduces the effectiveness of cheating since students cannot easily copy or look up answers.

7. Monitor the environment: During the test, be vigilant and actively monitor the testing environment to prevent cheating. Circulate around the room, observe students’ behavior, and watch for any suspicious activities.

8. Time management: Manage the time carefully during the test to minimize the chances of students looking up answers or consulting unauthorized materials. Clearly communicate the timing expectations and prompt students to manage their time accordingly.

9. Prevention: Encourage students to use the comfort room before the exam begins, and emphasize that if they need to use the comfort room during the examination, they must voluntarily leave any materials that could potentially tempt them to cheat inside the comfort room cubicle.

10. Conduct follow-up measures: After the test, review the results and look for any unusual patterns or similarities in answers that may indicate cheating. If suspicions arise, investigate further, and take appropriate disciplinary actions if necessary.

B. Detection

1. Remain calm and observant. Stay composed and observant when you notice the suspicious behavior. Avoid jumping to conclusions but be vigilant in monitoring the situation. 2. Proctors are encouraged to stand from time to time, and monitor diligently student conduct throughout the examination.

3. Whenever feasible, the exam proctors should observe any suspected academic dishonesty behavior before confronting the student.

4. Unless the behavior is unmistakably evident (such as concealed cheat sheets), confirmation of a suspected incident should be postponed until after the examination period concludes

C. Approach

C.1 WHEN A PROCTOR OBSERVES THAT A STUDENT IS LOOKING, GLANCING, OR STARING AT ANOTHER STUDENT'S ANSWER SHEET

1. If you suspect that a student is looking, glancing, or staring at another student's answer sheet, approach the student discreetly to address the observed behavior. Do not disrupt the entire exam room, as this may embarrass the student and disrupt others.

2. Politely but firmly ask the student about the observed behavior without making accusatory statements. For example, you might say, "I noticed you glanced at your seat-mate's paper, can you explain what happened?"

3. Listen to the student's explanation. Give the student an opportunity to explain his/her actions. The student may provide a valid reason for the behavior, such as looking for a clarification on a question. This time, politely but firmly remind him or her of the rule that all questions be directed only to the proctor or the teacher.

4. In the case of an obvious cheat sheet found, you should ask the student to step outside of the examination area (while you stand on a spot where you will still be able to observe the rest of the examinees), take the examination paper, and discuss the act caught and consequences away from the rest of the class. Yet, if you're solely serving as the proctor (and not the teacher of the course), you should notify the student that the incident will be reported to the course teacher and advise them to anticipate being summoned or contacted by their teacher. Do not send the student to the Discipline Office. Academic Dishonesty concerns will be handled by the faculty, and if unresolved by the Academic Integrity Council, which will be formed per college. Tell them to use the remaining time to prepare for their next examination and to not commit academic dishonesty again.

5. Offer Support and Guidance After Informing the Student of the Consequences: The subject course teacher should conduct an academic conference with the student caught cheating, as evidenced by a cheat sheet, and inform him/her of the consequence of cheating. The teacher should offer support and guidance to the student, especially if they express remorse or acknowledge their mistake. Provide referrals to academic support services or counseling to help them learn from the experience. Monitor the students' behavior during future exams to prevent recurrence of unauthorized communication.

6. Maintain Confidentiality: Respect the privacy of the students by maintaining confidentiality throughout the process. Avoid discussing the incident with other students or sharing sensitive information.

C.2 WHEN A PROCTOR OBSERVES A COLLEGE STUDENT TALKING TO HIS/HER SEAT-MATE DURING AN EXAM, DESPITE INSTRUCTIONS NOT TO DO SO

1. Address Promptly: Approach the students immediately upon observing the unauthorized communication. Prompt action can help prevent further disruption and ensure the integrity of the exam.

2. Remain Calm and Firm: Approach the situation calmly but assertively. Use a firm tone to communicate the seriousness of the infraction while maintaining professionalism.

3. Separate the Students Involved: Politely instruct the students to cease communication and separate them to prevent further collaboration. Direct them to different areas of the exam room if possible.

4. Clarify the Rule: Remind the students of the exam rules regarding communication and emphasize that any unauthorized interaction during the exam is prohibited.

5. Document the Incident: Document the incident in detail, including the time, date, location, and nature of the communication observed. Inform the students that this will be reported to their course teacher.

6. In the case of an obvious cheat sheet found, upon conduct of prompt and discreet investigation, you should ask the student who gave the cheat sheet and the student who received it, to step outside of the examination area (while you stand on a spot where you will still be able to observe the rest of the examinees), take their examination papers, and discuss the act caught and consequences away from the rest of the class. Yet, if you're solely serving as the proctor (and not the instructor of the course), you should notify the student that the incident will be reported to the course teacher and advise them to anticipate being contacted by their teacher. Do not send the student to the Discipline Office. Academic Dishonesty concerns will be handled by the faculty, and if unresolved by the Academic Integrity Council, which will be formed per college. Tell them to use the remaining time to prepare for their next examination and to not commit academic dishonesty again.

7. Offer Support and Guidance After Informing the Student of the Consequences: The subject course teacher should conduct an academic conference with the student caught cheating, as evidenced by a cheat sheet, and inform him/her of the consequence of cheating. The teacher should offer support and guidance to the student, especially if they express remorse or acknowledge their mistake. Provide referrals to academic support services or counseling to help them learn from the experience. Monitor the students' behavior during future exams to prevent recurrence of unauthorized communication.

8. Maintain Confidentiality: Respect the privacy of the students by maintaining confidentiality throughout the process. Avoid discussing the incident with other students or sharing sensitive information.

7.2 UNIVERSITY STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Executive Branch

The Executive Branch of the USLS University Student Government handles the leadership, management, and daily operations of the organization. It makes sure plans, programs, and policies are carried out for the benefit of the students. This branch leads various departments, works with different groups, and responds to student needs through activities and services. It also takes charge of setting directions, preparing budgets, and keeping the organization running smoothly. In simpler terms, the Executive Branch gets things done and helps bring the student government's goals to life.

The Executive Branch of the USLS Student Government leads and manages the organization's work for the student body. Headed by the elected President, it oversees departments, carries out laws, handles finances, and makes sure plans and programs happen. The Vice President and Treasurer help lead, support student groups, and manage funds. Together, they work with the Senate, report to students, and ensure the government runs smoothly until the next set of leaders takes over.

As per the Executive Operations Manual, the Executive Branch cabinet is composed of the Executive Secretary and Secretaries and Deputy Secretaries for the following departments respectively: Department of Academic Affairs (DAA), Department of Administrative Services (DAS), Department of Advocacy Programs (DAP), Department of Budget and Finance (BNF), Department of Cultural Affairs (DCA), Department of Human Resource and Development (HRD), Department of Public Relations (DPR), Department of Religious Services (DRS), Department of Sports Affairs (DSA), Liaison for Campus Clubs and Organizations (LCCO), and Samahang Lasalyano (SL).

This power is vested in the Student Senate, which is composed of elected student representatives from each college. Senators are tasked with representing the voice of the student body and ensuring that laws and policies reflect the students' best interests. The Senate works through permanent committees, such as those on accountability, finance, student welfare, and legislative procedures, each handling specific aspects of governance. It also creates special committees when needed to address particular issues.

The Senate approves appointments made by the Executive President and has the authority to investigate, hold officers accountable, and recommend sanctions when necessary. It manages the passage of bills and ensures that proper legislative procedures are followed before any law takes effect.

The Senate President, elected by the members, leads the Senate and ensures order during sessions. The Senate can suspend or expel members for misconduct and is guided by its internal rules and parliamentary procedures. By overseeing appointments, budget allocations, and legislative matters, the Senate acts as a check on the Executive and other branches of government. The legislative process ensures transparency, accountability, and responsiveness to student concerns. Ultimately, the Student Senate safeguards the democratic function of the student government and helps uphold student rights and welfare.

Based on the 2022 Student Organization Constitution, the Legislative Branch has 4 standing committees namely the Committee on Blue Ribbon (BR), Committee on Budget and Finance (BNF), Committee on Rules and Procedures (RNP), and Committee on Issues and Advocacies (INA).

autonomy to maintain its impartiality. It also appoints its own judges and manages its internal procedures. The branch ensures that student government officials are held accountable and that justice is served within the scope of the organization. Additionally, the Student Counselors Service, under the Judiciary, provides legal representation and assistance to students and campus organizations in cases before the Court. Through these roles, the Judiciary Branch protects fairness, upholds student rights, and safeguards the integrity of the USLS Student Government.

The councils also have the authority to create committees for specific tasks, ensuring that student affairs are managed efficiently. They work to uphold the welfare of their constituents while promoting leadership and active participation within the college community. Through collaboration with the central student government, the College Councils help maintain a strong connection between students and the larger university governance.

Currently there are college councils serving their respective colleges namely College of Arts and Sciences (CAS), College of Computing Studies (CCS), College of Education (CEd), College of Engineering (CoE), College of Nursing (CON), College of Tourism and Hospitality (CTH), and Yu An Log College of Business and Accountancy (YAL CBA).

Special Auditors, appointed by the COA, assist in monitoring campus organizations and preparing regular audit reports. Grant me the faith to live my life, always in the awareness of your loving presence.
Grant me the zeal to serve without thought of reward,
those to whom you send me.
Grant me the charity to bear the burdens of my brothers and sisters.
Teach me to seek your Son's face, in the last, the lost, and the least.
In whatever I undertake, may I seek above all things,
to procure your glory,
as far as I able, and as you will require of me.
Strengthen me by your Holy Spirit, to follow Jesus by living the commitment I make this day.
Amen.
St. John Baptist de La Salle, pray for us. Live Jesus in our hearts forever!

One La Salle Prayer

Let me be the change I want to see to do with strength and wisdom all that needs to be done...
and become the hope that I can be.
Set me free from my fears and hesitations grant me courage and humility fill me with spirit to face the challenge and start the change I long to see.
Today I start the change I want to see.
Even if I'm not the light
I can be the spark
In faith, service and communion
Let us start the change we want to see.
The change that begins in me.
Live Jesus in our hearts forever!

USLS is Plastic Neutral
The University of St. La Salle continues to critically reflect on our role as a Lasallian educational institution and the transformative actions we must take to help bring forth genuine social development -- a society where everyone is liberated and work towards the fullness of life.

Inspired by St. John Baptist de La Salle, in the spirit of faith, zeal for service and communion in mission, we want to be in solidarity with progressive elements of the larger community to bring forth a Lasallian campus that is committed to preserve God's creation and to help build a just and humane society.

Aligned and supplementary to our Institutional Solid Waste Management Program, we commit to make the USLS campus A Plastic Neutral community. We enjoin all sectors to reduce our plastic usage including, but not limited to, straws, cups, plates, utensils, food packs and bags.

These are the activities that we can do to live out this commitment:

- Bring Your Own Bottles (BYOB)
- Bring Your Own Food Container (BYOFC)
- Carry your own Metal or Wooden Straws
- Bring your own utensils
- Use Ecological bags such as canvass, "katsa", woven and others
- Don't mix plastics with other garbage
- Food Concessionaires and other providers will give out alternatives to single use plastics

W. PROJECT CARBON NEUTRAL

De La Salle Philippines has announced Project Carbon Neutral (PCN), a program spearheaded by the Lasallian Institute for the Environment that will help improve our schools to be greener than ever.

Carbon Neutrality refers to achieving a net zero carbon footprints by balancing the amount of carbon emissions with projects that will offset them. This year, Project Carbon Neutral will assess the carbon footprint of Lasallian Institutions in the Philippines. At the end of this school year, we will have a clearer picture on how much carbon dioxide we produce in our daily activities. This in turn will help us, Lasallians, determine how best to go about offsetting and reducing our carbon footprint.

As good stewards of God's creation, it is a great concerted effort to help preserve the environment. It is a meaningful step to survival for all of us and future generations. It would truly be a significant centennial endeavor to be carbon neutral or better for ONE LA SALLE. (www.life.net.ph)
